

SHEPHERD UNIVERSITY'S CENTER FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING (CTL)

The mission of the Shepherd University Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL) is to support teaching excellence and to foster learning experiences inside and outside of the classroom. The Center is directly responsible for overseeing faculty development training for full- and part-time faculty members. The office also oversees the assessment process on campus as well as the First-Year Experience Program, Instructional Technology, Academic Support and Academic Advisement.

The CTL is headed by Dr. Laura Renninger, Dean of Teaching, Learning and Instructional Resources, and Ms. Shannon Holliday, CTL Project Coordinator. Dr. Robert Warburton is the Assistant Dean overseeing Academic Advisement/Registration. Three program directors – Joe Green, Academic Support Center; Lauryl Lewis, Instructional Technologist; and Judi McIntyre, First-Year Experience Director – all report directly to the Dean of Teaching, Learning and Instructional Resources.

Dean Renninger will present an overview of the many workshops, services and initiatives of the Center for Teaching and Learning.
